

LO: To understand what fronted adverbials are and how to punctuate them correctly.

Watch the clip below and read the information about fronted adverbials and complete the tasks in your homework books.

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/articles/zmwgsk7>

Task 1

Rewrite these sentences by moving the adverbial phrase to the front of the sentence.

Remember: You must use a comma after your fronted adverbial.

1. The lion leaped from the tall grass as quick as a flash.
2. The howler monkeys wake up the whole jungle with their loud calls in the morning.
3. The badgers' home was built under the woodland ground.

Task 2

This time, add your own fronted adverbials to the sentences.

1. The fox stared at the mouse.
2. The giraffe reached for the leaf on top of the tree.
3. The owl soared through the sky.

Top tip! Remember TRaMP!

TIME	REASON	MANNER	PLACE
yesterday... last week... twice a week... next... when... after... before...	because... due to the fact... as... therefore... consequently...	quickly... like lightning... with a swirl... carefully... easily... like a flash...	in the graveyard... near to the castle... under the stairs... between the buildings... at the top of the hill... in the sky...

Fronted adverbials explain how, where, why or when something happened.

Task 3

Watch the clip at the bottom of the BBC link about spring. Now write six sentences about what happens in spring using a fronted adverbial in every sentence. Remember to use TRaMP to help you vary your openers.
